

Today's decision from Michael Powell and the FCC comes as a big disappointment. They claim that this is a free speech issue, but it is not. It is about a deceitful political ad masquerading as news and being forced on local stations to influence an election; all clear violations of the charter and obligations that go with use of public air waves.